In 2002, we created the Educational Policy Institute to fulfill a need for more rigorous educational research and to create better linkages between research and public policy. Fifteen years later, EPI provides research design and management, program evaluation, policy analysis, and technical assistance to school districts, institutions of higher education, governmental organizations, and other international stakeholders in the educational and public policy arena.

EPI is a Certified Small Business (SBA), Women-Owned, and US Department of Education ED-SAT contractor. We work throughout the education continuum, including pre-K, elementary and secondary, postsecondary, and workforce development. Our clients have included the US Department of Education, Lumina Foundation for Education, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, the National Council on Disability, and many others. In addition, the EPI Foundation provides special focus on critical issues in educational opportunity research.

Perhaps we can help you, too. Email us at info@educationalpolicy.org.

EPI CORE AREAS OF EXPERTISE

- Early Childhood. EPI conducts research and evaluation on early education and reading, including evaluations of the US Department of Education's Reading First program.
- Students with Disabilities. EPI has worked with the National Council on Disability on several projects, studying the linkage between No Child Left Behind and the impact on students with disabilities and state educational systems. As well, EPI currently serves as the prime contractor on a five-year, $4 million study for the Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP) at the U.S. Department of Education.
- Early Intervention/Outreach. EPI conducts research, writes publications, and provides professional development opportunities on early intervention and pre-college outreach programs.
- Student Graduation/Retention. EPI conducts research on district and state-level reforms and provides professional development opportunities to help educators keep students in secondary school and on the pathway to college.
- College Access, Student Aid, & Affordability. EPI is well versed in student financial aid, postsecondary access, and affordability issues. The EPI Website provides publications and reports on these and associated issues. EPI publishes the weekly Swail Letter on Higher Education.
- Cost Effectiveness Analysis. EPI conducts cost effective analyses (CEA) to help organizations and institutions determine the return on investment for their interventions and processes.
- Postsecondary Retention & Success. EPI is one of the premier leaders in student persistence and success. EPI publishes Student Success magazine and conducts several conferences and workshops each year on these issues.

GRANT WRITING AND PARTNERSHIPS

The Educational Policy Institute often partners with educational agencies to respond to Requests for Proposals (RFPs) from government agencies, philanthropies, and other organizations. EPI can help by providing the research and evaluation infrastructure while also filling the role as third-party evaluator. Contact us to learn more about how EPI can help.

WHAT WE DO

PROGRAM EVALUATION. EPI conducts evaluations of educational programs and interventions. This evaluation work includes evaluation design, implementation, and analysis, and includes the development and use of surveys, interviews, focus groups, and data analysis. EPI's work in this field includes both formative and summative evaluations, including impact evaluations to determine the utility of programs and strategies on student learning and progress as well as return on investment analyses to assess the best use of project funding. We help organizations understand what works and what doesn't.

RESEARCH DESIGN AND MANAGEMENT. EPI designs and directs small, medium, and large-scale research projects to answer questions that help us better understand the education system, how students learn, and how we can improve systems and strategies to improve the education process. EPI's work in this area includes the design and implementation of experimental, quasi-experimental, and non-experimental studies, formative and summative research, survey development, site-based research, including focus groups, interviews, and document retrieval/review, and data collection and analysis. Our research team has extensive experience in data analysis using all major statistical programs, including SPSS, SAS, HLM, Excel, and Access.

POLICY ANALYSIS. EPI conducts policy and trend analyses on a variety of educational issues related to educational preparation, matriculation to postsecondary studies, and postsecondary success. EPI policy briefs address issues such as federal and state/provincial policies and institutional/school policies and practices. In addition to these efforts, we also conduct reviews of related research, legislation, and literature.

DATA SERVICES. EPI provides data services for organizations in the form of data collection, warehousing, and dissemination. EPI has developed numerous surveys and administered these instruments to a large number of students, and also has the internal capacity to build data tools and warehouses to store and retrieve data in a timely fashion. EPI has developed its own longitudinal data management system—the EPI Data Analysis System, or EPI-DAS—for use with large-scale evaluation projects. EPI-DAS enables individual student unit record data to be loaded directly into the system that facilitates data collection, descriptive analysis, and reporting.

CONFERENCES & WORKSHOPS. EPI coordinates conferences, workshops, and webinars focused on critical education issues. For several years, EPI has conducted the Retention 101 workshops around the US, Canada, and beyond for practitioners and higher-education leaders. The Bi-Annual EPI Forum on Education and the Economy is an important event, as well as the EPI National Capitol Summit held in Washington, DC. Over the past decade, EPI has conducted over 50 professional development events.

KNOWLEDGE DISSEMINATION. EPI publishes regular articles, papers, and publications on a variety of education issues, all available at educationalpolicy.org. Included is the weekly Swail Letter on Higher Education, Student Success emagazine, and publications based on our research.

CONSULTING. Through our research expertise, we provide a solid foundation of empirical support for our partners and clients. Some of the areas include professional development, benchmarking, change management, leadership development, team building, and policy development. EPI assists institutions in the planning and implementation of new programs to improve student retention, complete with diagnostics and analysis of current conditions and practices.
